Shot Bullet, Fired from Automatic, Same as Cartridge Used in "Shooting Up" Horseman Home.

The bullet which penetrated the kitchen door at the residence of Sid Johnson, 3 1/2 miles east of town, Tuesday night, sped over the head of a boy who was standing in the doorway, passed through a wall, entered a bedroom, struck one side of the room, bounced back against another wall of the room, and fell to the floor, no one being hit. Johnson said about five shots were fired.

It is considered miraculous that no one was injured, especially after the bullet took such a course before it dropped harmlessly to the floor. The bullet is of .38 caliber, and is made of steel. It was fired from an automatic revolver according to the authorities.

A remarkable coincidence is that the bullet is of the same caliber and style of those picked out of the horseman's house, which was riddled with bullets a few months ago, one of which struck a painful but not serious wound.

Deputy Allick May investigated the case yesterday first going to the home of Jesse Ethridge, where he obtained a dog. The dog is not a blood hound but it is said he will run a track. When the deputies reached the scene, the track was cold and the attempt to track the gun man failed, although the track was followed as far as the Federal of Georgia tracks about a mile away. The authorities were not wholly without success, however, as several slight clues were obtained.

ONLY 906 POLL TAXES ARE PAID

Tax Collector Smith Hall Says Citizens Must Pay Poll Taxes By February 1st—Just Ten Days.

The records at Tax Collector Smith Hall's office today shows that 906 men, tried and true, as it were, while a goodly number of the citizenship has neglected this privilege have paid their poll taxes and are entitled to vote in primaries and elections. This number, according to former records, should be more than 900. There is but one explanation: a large per cent of the voters have not paid poll taxes.

To participate in elections should any one above the political horizon, it is very necessary to carry or hold in some convenient place a poll tax receipt. Unless one wants his vote questioned, this is used because of the fact that women's suffrage has not carried in this state yet.

Can This Be True? It is variously rumored, hinted, talked and otherwise suggested that there is a certain class of human beings who never pay poll taxes, but let them accumulate for years until some leader comes along to help them.

Deputy Allick May investigated the case yesterday first going to the home of Jesse Ethridge, where he obtained a dog. The dog is not a blood hound but it is said he will run a track. When the deputies reached the scene, the track was cold and the attempt to track the gun man failed, although the track was followed as far as the Federal of Georgia tracks about a mile away. The authorities were not wholly without success, however, as several slight clues were obtained.

It seems to be a well known character in county politics that some law should be passed making the payment of poll taxes compulsory. He thought a few minutes and had in mind. However, he said that would force the negro to pay his poll taxes, and vote also. At any rate, he seemed to think that something should be done to the poll tax law, even if the State Constitution had to be tampered with.

February 1 Last Day

Poll taxes must be paid by February 1st, according to Tax Collector Smith Hall. This gives the citizens of Dothan County about ten more days in which to qualify as voters. Unless they hurry and pay these taxes, the large number that sometimes rushes to the polls to save the county will be greatly decreased.

ABSOLUTE QUIET REPORT ON PART OF BIG BATTLELINE

Paris, Jan. 20—Absolute quiet on some parts of the battlefield in France. Artillery engagements of greater or less severity at other points, and a spirited infantry encounter at other places, all are summarily set forth in the morning edition of the French War Office this afternoon. None of the engagements recorded seemed to have been of great importance.

FAMOUS OREGON READY FOR THE CANAL OPENING

San Francisco, Jan. 20—The battleship Oregon, repaired and placed in commission to help U.S. Atlantic fleet through the Panama canal next month, is ready here today. She will remain in port two days.

The famous warship entered the Golden Gate last night completing the first leg of her voyage and making good.

Instead of her former dress of white and yellow, the Oregon was garbed in slate gray and the spindly foremast of '98 was replaced by one of the more modern eagle-like towers. Wireless came was among the other evidences of modern equipment.

Commander Joseph M. Roesser, who brought the Oregon into San Francisco bay, stood with her in the engine room during her dash around the Horn to the Atlantic in 1898, and among her crew are many others who participated in that historic cruise.

MRS. MOORE KILLS HUSBAND, WOUNDS WOMAN COMPANION

Birmingham, Jan. 20—Mrs. A. I. Moore of Leeds, Ala., shot and killed her husband, A. I. Moore, and wounded Miss Anne Sanders, when she found them together in Miss Sanders' home at Mineral Wells shortly after midnight Wednesday morning. Miss Sanders, who is 21 years old, is not badly wounded and will recover. Moore was shot twice, once through the heart and once through the thigh and his death was instantaneous. Mrs. Moore is now confined to her bed under the care of a doctor, as a result of the early morning firing in Mineral Wells.

According to reports to Governor Springs' office, Miss Sanders lives by herself at Mineral Wells. Mrs. Moore with her son-in-law arrived at Miss Sanders' home in a buggy from Leeds the purpose of the trip being to take her husband home, so it is said. Entering the house, she found her husband and the other woman together, and the tragedy resulted. Miss Sanders was hit once in the shoulder.

Moore was about 42 years of age and has a family. He and his family lived at Leeds. It is said that last July Miss Sanders was in Mineral Wells from Mississippi.

Mineral Wells is about three quarters of a mile from Leeds. Leeds is about twelve miles east of Birmingham.

Anti-Sunday Baseball Bill To Be Reported Adversely

Montgomery, Jan. 20—The anti-Sunday baseball bill will be reported adversely by the Senate Temperance Committee. Floor. The bill which was introduced by Senator Bonner prohibiting the playing of baseball on Sundays and other games, is still in the hands of the committee.

Some of the leaders of the majority are taking a decided stand against the enactment of extreme measures. They are taking the position that extravagant legislation will tend to weaken the force of the prohibition laws already enacted and bring adverse criticism on the Legislature that might otherwise be avoided.

It was this idea that led to the adoption of several important amendments to the Bonner anti-slipping bill Tuesday afternoon. An amendment adopted before the final passage of the bill in the Senate eliminates the requirement of registering names of consignees when no more than a legal amount of liquor is delivered to the consignee. The bill also was amended increasing the amount of liquor a person can have on hand at any one time from a pint to a quart.

Leaders declared that they feared the original bill was too drastic in that it might be considered by some as unduly infringing on the individual rights of the people.

UNCLE SAM HAS NO WORD FROM CITY OF MEXICO

Washington, Jan. 20—Secretary Bryan said today the State Department had been without information for two days as to what had been happening in Mexico City. He described the situation as "somewhat mixed."

The flight of General Gutierrez from Mexico City has necessitated a quick change in military plans of the convention forces commanded by General Villa. The expected attack on Tampico, it is now believed, will be delayed.

A general withdrawal of Villa's forces from southern Mexico is believed to be in prospect. ## FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE TODAY

Residence of D. C. Carmichael Practically Destroyed by Fire Which Started from Stove

Fire that started from a stove this morning practically destroyed the residence of D. C. Carmichael, at the intersection of Ontario and Adams streets today about 11:00 o'clock. The loss on the building was covered by insurance. Practically all the furniture and household furnishings were saved. The estimated value of the house was $8,000. It was an old structure of attractive architectural design.

Walter Price, a negro boy, was churning when some of the sparks fell and started the fire. This morning to a realization that the house was afire. The man quickly notified D. C. Carmichael, who telephoned the fire station.

At the fire station all was not well with the combination fire truck but after a few turns at the crank this intrepid fire-fighting machine was off loaded with its men. The firemen reached the scene and stretched two lines of hose. One fireman stood on the ground at the south end and poured a steady stream of water upon the roaring flames. Another line was taken to the west side of the house. Finally the firemen got on the roof with the hose where they put in a bit of good work.

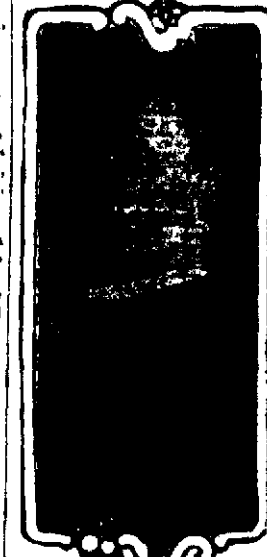

The fire had gained considerable headway by the time the firemen were in position to work the belated fire alarm and short delay at the station both contributing to this. The building is not a total loss as the side walls were left standing. The greater part of the fire was on the massive roof of the structure, and it spread very rapidly.

Neighbors and spectators from town rushed to the scene and assisted in taking the furniture and household effects out of the building. They were temporarily placed in the streets, and in other convenient places.

The Carmichael house was constructed about 15 years ago by D. C. Carmichael, former Mayor of Dothan and now president of the First National Bank. Workmen were busy this afternoon.

BILLS TO ABOLISH EXCISEMENT IS GIVEN FAVORABLE REVIEW

ONLY ONE 16-IRON GUN IN CANAL FORTIFICATIONS

Montgomery, Jan. 20—The House committee on Temperance Wednesday acted favorably on the bill to abolish the excise on liquors of the state in the towns where liquors are sold. The law is to take effect immediately upon its passage. The duties are formed by the excise committee on the Harvey bill, which prohibits the sale of liquors in Alabama and also prohibits keeping excise on liquor material on sale. The bill came up today for consideration but at the request of Frank White, Jr., attorney for the cigarette dealers, the hearing was postponed until Thursday morning.

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS

A German airship raid on English coast ended today. The night resulted in four deaths, the injury of several men, and considerable property damage. Apparently the men who performed the spectacular feat escaped unscathed, but not yet been established whether aeroplanes or balloons were employed.

An official Russian statement today described serious fighting, southwest of Warsaw, January 17 and 18. In these engagements it was said, Russians won the advantage twice, allowing German forces and on another occasion repulsed an attack with heavy loss to Germans.

Two victories over British ships near the head of the Persian Gulf are claimed by the Persian war office. It is asserted British attempted a surprise attack on the Turin, but was repulsed with the loss of 100 men and wounded. In a cavalry engagement the British are reported to have withdrawn after heavy losses.

In Alsace, where the Germans were progressing until recently by the arrival of a mass reinforcement, they are now on the defensive. The official statement from Berlin today says the Germans captured the town of Alstaden in the Ardennes in a surprise, but that it dropped French statement, which said the Allies, although temporarily to evacuate positions, later recaptured Elsenberg along the frontier only minor actions occurred yesterday.

Justice Baxley To Get Appointment

Justice W. J. Baxley said today that he had been advised by some of his lawyer friends that he will receive an appointment from Governor Henderson as a justice of the Peace in this county. He said he had not received official notification of this appointment.

One of the last official acts of former Governor Emmet O. Sneed was the appointment of John P. Baxley to the position Justice of the Peace in this county. The purpose of the appointment of Justice Baxley will not effect the appointment of John P. Baxley, it is said. The population of the town is small and authorized four justices while heretofore only three have served. Consequently the reappointment of Justice Baxley will merely mean the addition of another Justice.

To Isolate Villa.

Atlanta Constitution

Intercepted correspondence between former Provisional President Gutierrez, of Mexico, and Obregon, Carranza's military leader, reveals with tolerable exactness a plot to isolate Villa from the other factions and form a coalition to crush him. It is not entirely in evidence what part Zapata plays in the scheme, though it does not appear how he can safely be ignored. In the meantime, Villa is represented as hurrying toward Mexico City with intention to take command of the situation there.

The job of eliminating Villa may or may not be an easy one. Several times recently his troops have been defeated by Obregon, and while Villa himself was not in command, he could not avoid the loss of a certain amount of prestige. It is not impossible that Villa's reputation for prowess and invincibility has been seriously impaired, and his failure to turn over his soldiers the promised "loaves and fishes" would go a long way in that direction.

Just what is to be gained by throwing the redoubtable Pancho on the discard is yet to be established. It is true that Carranza had a fairly firm grip on the civil establishment until Villa began to make extravagant claims for recognition. But Carranza has shown himself vacillating and without the faculty of killing the messenger fast to him, either in confidence or through to treason, and it is agreed that one of these two methods must be applied in Mexico.

There is Obregon, Carranza's military chief, a man who has heretofore been in the background but whose fighting genius is unquestioned, and who possesses in addition qualities of force, decision and administration that Carranza lacks, with experience and culture that Villa can never attain. It may be that he will be the man of the hour, either by proxy through Carranza or in his own person.

Altogether, the situation is in a formidable jumble. Thus far there is no cause for apprehension on this side of the Rio Grande, and there is that at least for which to be thankful.

Students of Mr. Bryan.

Mobile Register.

The Eastern newspapers make much of Mr. Bryan and the San Domingo affair, seeking to show that Mr. Bryan wishes to use the Dominican troubles as opportunity to create offices for deserving Democrats. Reprehensible as the rewarding of the faithful parties may be, it will not appear very unkind to a large number of people who believe that the deserving Democrats ought to be provided with offices. Furthermore, the journalistic approach has all the look of a political scheme, to get the secretary of state's "goat," so to speak, to no lower him in public esteem as to prevent his becoming a candidate for president in 1916. There is a good deal of that sort of thing going on all the time and it makes the public suspicious of the bona fides of the secretary's critics.

If the design is to discredit Mr. Bryan, it is likely to fail. Experience shows that that is not the way to overthrow such a man's popularity. Like Roosevelt, he lives on the publicity he gets.

A Dothan man used to say that his idea of good music was the amount of fun it made. Some politicians seem to have the same idea in regard to their services.

Punishment for Public

Mendicants

The Superior Court of Pennsylvania has sustained the Society for Organization of Charity in Philadelphia institution, in its effort to suppress street begging.

This will do a great deal toward making more effective the organized movement to suppress vagrancy and will assist organized efforts to help those who are deserving of help and will safeguard the public as well.

Two professional mendicants were arrested in Philadelphia and charged with vagrancy. Both were blind, and used their affliction as a plea for charity. They were undoubtedly pitiable objects but the court felt that organized charity was the proper place for the two unfortunates to appeal for assistance and not the streets. Since there was a city ordinance against public begging, the higher court accepted the same view and sustained the lower court.

This instance is merely cited in order that the Associated Charities of our own city may feel encouraged. Incidentally, attention might be called to the fact that the uptown district has been crowded with street beggars in walking from The Commercial Appeal building to the corner of Madison and Main, three professional beggars were found soliciting charity on the street Sunday night.

Street begging should be stopped. Appeals should be made to the Associated Charities. Generally inclined people have their confidence sadly abused. These who are in direct need are never seen. It is the professional who appears in public.

There is often money in begging if the plea for aid is well presented and the system is properly pursued. The professional mendicant usually makes a fortune out of his trade. Public sympathy is easily excited.

Organized charity does a double service in distributing and equalizing the charity that should go to the deserving and in protecting the public from being imposed upon by sturdy beggars who have taken up mendicancy as a profitable business. These people are often an eyesore and an annoyance, tolerated only because they are believed to be unfortunate, and occasionally punished because they are found to be professional frauds.

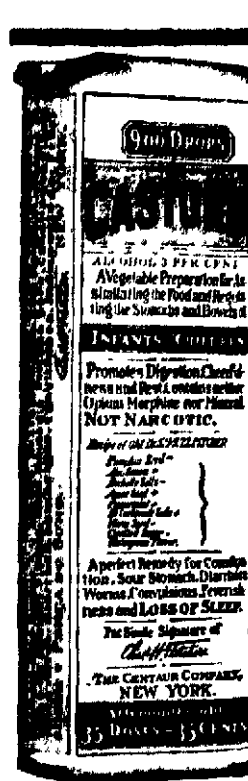

Scientists claim that more than 15 per cent of the earth's crust is composed of aluminum. The price asked for some of it would indicate that the owners believe it was composed of gold or platinum.

Saloons that sell whiskey to boys as is charged against those operating in Montgomery on inauguration day, don't need regulating, they need exterminating.

If you have any consolation not intended for home consumption send it to Commander Advertiser. He has slipped in to her home and of our country her round about.

The whiskey option party is harping on "Crummey's break." The only break he made was the hopes of the afore said whiskey optionists.

The legislature will not be influenced by the handful of weak opinion politicians praying for a vote on prohibition.

"The Silent Partner"

Sometimes tucked away behind the work worn meaning of this pair of words, "silent partner," is one that says, "a small, wide, fat person as old as mythology and as young as a new moon or the first sand-lily in the spring, covered with innocence and yet with a wise look in his restless eyes," who is the unsuspected third of a firm that is composed of a young and successful man and the girl who labors for him at beaming stanzas and writing tactful letters and keeping track of all the things he is to do and has done.

If you were to see him, search for the man who yearns over his children at the front black figure behind him and cries with his eyes as clear as day, "I cannot live without you and that girl on your feet, and the girl who is long out of my chaos, this and the girl who sometimes drifts away from the routine under her elbow with an answer in her eyes to the call in his, if only she was turned about. Here you will find the "silent partner" the other gentleman of this definition. And out of the early gold land of a man that meets in dream analysis."

Crop Diversification Campaign To Start February Second

The Alabama Crop Diversification Campaign, will open in Birmingham on Tuesday night, February 2nd, is the announcement of W. D. Redd, chairman of the general campaign committee.

At this time there will be a meeting of the leading farmers, bankers, merchants, railroad men, educators and newspaper men from all over the State, and from other Southern States as well. It is thought that this meeting will be the largest and most important of its kind ever held in the South. On the following day Jefferson county will be covered by the campaign men and from that time on the schedule over the state will be given to each county visited, with from 25 to 40 meetings in a county. Two crews of fifteen farming men each, will be in every county included in the schedule. In these crews will be some of the most successful farmers in the United States—men who have made a notable success with diversification and live stock raising and the marketing of their products.

The organization and advance work of the campaign began this week. Trained men from the Experiment station, the United States Department of Agriculture, the Bureau of Agricultural Chemicals and the Bureau of Plant Industry, are now in the state.

United Harvesting Company, is visiting the counties that have requested the campaign and are helping the local people to diversify by using some of the new plants.

"To make Alabama feed her self" is the purpose of this campaign. It is to bring about a closer cooperation between business and agriculture in the diversification of crops and the raising of more live stock and poultry, and in the bringing about of better marketing facilities. A great deal of attention will be given to marketing problems by men who have helped the people with marketing in other sections of the country. A good deal of work will also be done in the prevention of cholera and in the eradication of the cattle tick.

It is believed by leading business men and farmers over the State that this campaign will result in the saving of millions of dollars that Alabama has been sending yearly to the Central West for food-stuffs.

If you are preaching economy why don't you practice it by looking at the Red Front 10c Store. They "sell more for less."

Be Patient.

(By Margaret E. Sangster)
Sweet friend, when thou and I are gone
Beyond earth's weary labor,
When shall be our need of grace
From comrade or from neighbor,
Passed all the strife, the toil, the care,
And done with all the sighing,
What tender truth shall we have gained,
Alas, by simply dying!

Then lips too chary of their praise
Will tell our merits over,
And eyes too swift our faults to see
Shall no defect discover;
Then hands that would not lift a stone
Where stones are thick to cumber
Our steep hill-path, will scatter flowers
Above our pillowed slumber.

Sweet friend, perchance both thou and I,
Ere love is past forgiving,
Should take the earnest lesson home,
Be patient with the living;
Today's repressed rebuke may save
Our blinding tears tomorrow.
Then patience—'ere' when keen

ost edge

May what a nameless sorrow
Too easy to be gentle when Death's silence hushes our chance,
And easy to discern the best
Through memory's mystic glow;
But wise it were for thee and me
ere love is past forgiving,
To take the tender lesson home
Be patient with the living

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Household.

Plummet Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and vertigo, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my household work.

I had dreadful pains in my back, shoulders and when one of those weak, dizzy spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, and sleep off.

My condition is a dreadful state of affairs. I finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I finally believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.
